Frequently Asked Questions

Summer Adventure

1. What is Summer Adventure?

Summer Adventure is typically a week-long outing that is focused on high adventure and outdoor experience. While other programs may focus on advancement and or skill badges, the TLUSA Summer Adventure is dedicated to providing the youth with an unforgettable good time – focused on and directed towards the individual programs (Mountain Lions, Navigators and Adventurers).

2. When and where is it held?

Troop 317 will begin planning for the following summer, usually late in the calendar year (November/December). Different activities for the different programs will be held at appropriate venues – some close, some further away.

3. Do most youth attend Summer Adventure? Why is attendance encouraged?

Yes, the vast majority of Trailmen in our Troop attend Summer Adventure. They are encouraged to attend as they build stronger relationships with their fellow Trailmen and discover new abilities and proficiencies. Summer Adventure is a great time for the youth to have in-depth, focused opportunities for outdoor activities and other types of unadulterated fun (swimming, canoeing, whitewater rafting, horseback riding, sailing, rifle shooting, shotgun shooting, etc.). There may be optional time for instruction in outdoor skills or Trail Badges – but the focus of Summer Adventure is just that: ADVENTURE and experience.

4. How much does it cost and are there scholarships available?

The cost of Summer Adventure is directly dependent upon the activity selected. A typical Summer Adventure (camp-based) will generally run around $375. There will be plenty of fund-raising opportunities to help offset the cost, so a Trailman and his family should be alert for those opportunities, and be ready to take full advantage of them.
